volume 13. number 2

Goodbye Miss Eileen

Eileen Maclean, our children's librarian retired on June 17th after 7 wonderful years of dedicated service to the library. She built up a very strong rapport with the Mount Desert Elementary School, instituted a very popular Lego club, organized tremendously popular children's programs and not only started several children's book groups but also co-chaired the Women's Book Group for the past 6 years. We will miss her smiling face, great attitude, and dedication to the library.

We all wish her well in California!

In Memoriam:

Heather Frazer

This past spring we lost Heather Frazer, a member of the Library's Board of Directors, and a valuable community member after her long bout with cancer. Universally loved, respected and admired, she superbly chaired the Scholarship Committee and made it into the strong program it is today. She was the only board member who attended all the February Board meetings travelling from Florida every year. Her participation, dedication and expertise will be sorely missed.

Welcome Robin Strauss

We are very pleased to welcome Robin Strauss as our new Children's Librarian. She was chosen out of a competitive pool of 22 applicants and comes highly recommended by former Mount Desert Elementary School Principal, Scott McFarland. A life-long resident of MDI, Robin is a voracious reader, has been subbing and volunteering at the Mount Desert Elementary School, and has spent previous summers gardening and assisting her husband Eli with their family business. She has two children, Julia and Roger, who attend MDES. She is also the late Ruth Fraley's granddaughter.

She is really looking forward to continuing Eileen's

Roc Caivano Architectural Drawing Collection

It is with great pleasure that we announce the recent acquisition of retired Bar Harbor architect, Roc Caivano's work.

The collection spans 40+ years of Roc's work in Philadelphia and on Mount Desert Island. To date we have 120 projects of his cataloged and stored. We will continue to add more of his work as space is made available.

He worked alongside archivist, Hannah Stevens, to bring his most profound and expressive projects to the archive. The collection includes collaborative work with students during his time teaching at College of the Atlantic, plans and sketches for the Wendell Gilley Museum, a plan for a building at Dartmouth College, preliminary sketches for a proposed motel in Bar Harbor that was never built, and even a sketch of the front elevation of the Piazza Chapel in Italy drawn for his daughter's school project.

New Lighting in the Mellon Room

We are grateful to the MDI Photo Club, especially John Rivers, who spearheaded the project of replacing all 31 incandescent light bulbs in the Mellon Room with LEDs. John figured out which bulbs and which color would be best against the artwork. The library will save a considerable amount of money per year, and maintain consistent and uniform lighting. Thank you!

Maine Discovery Museum Membership

We have a library membership to the Maine Discovery Museum located at 74 Maine St. in Bangor! Our membership pass entitles the holder to free admission to the museum for one visit per day for up to 4 people. To use, stop by the circulation desk and get a signed, dated copy of the pass and a guidelines form.

Book Sale Grand Re-Opening

Library staff, Ed Horvath and Kate Young, and volunteers Ellen Scull and Eliza MacDonald worked tirelessly this winter and spring to revamp the book sale space. New shelving has been constructed and the space reorganized for better book sale shopping.

We're very excited to reopen this July!

Yes, we are always accepting donations! You can view our donation policy online at nehlibrary.com/policies or check in at the circ desk.

Join us for the grand re-opening Wednesday, July 6th from 4-6pm.

From the President of the Board...

Summer is upon us, and the town is filling up. At the library you see people you haven't seen in a year. You've forgotten their names, and they yours, but you greet one another enthusiastically, and you really are glad to see them; they're part of the town. They're part of the experience of summer, just like the azaleas at Asticou Garden, the big shiny boats in the harbor, those wonderful crystal days when you feel as if you could do anything, and those even more wonderful foggy days when you feel as if you could do nothing.

Recently a friend and I spent a whole afternoon by the fire on Islesford reading our books. We'd taken a walk – achieved our 10,000 steps – we were tired, it was foggy, any minute now it might rain. So we sat there by the old fireplace and we read and we read and we read.

Summer's a wonderful time in Maine. There's so much to do. But make sure this summer you take some time to just be quiet, whether it's on an early morning mountain trail or curled up in a chair by the fire with a wonderful, or even a stupid book. Let yourself dive into summer this year, go underwater and spend some time there, where you can't hear anything at all; sunlight filtering through.
